

The diagram illustrates a cyclical relationship between three main components: Theory (講義(理論)), Practice (演習(考察)), and Exchange (往還). Theory is at the top, Practice is at the bottom left, and Exchange is in the center. Arrows indicate a clockwise flow: from Theory to Practice (top-left to bottom-left), from Practice to Exchange (bottom-left to center), and from Exchange to Theory (center to top). Additionally, there are two diagonal arrows on the left side pointing away from the center, and two diagonal arrows on the right side pointing towards the center.
